Message

Congratulations to you, our dear young graduates of Class 2013! Your graduation marks another milestone in your journey through life.

Celebrate your success and share your joy with your family and friends. Take hold of your diploma, which symbolizes the fruit of your studies, and thank God for all the blessings He has showered upon you and for enabling you to enjoy your graduation.

...And now, it's time to look beyond your graduation. Are you ready to face the days ahead of you? What do you want to do with your life after graduation?

Actually, your teachers in school have already equipped you with the knowledge and skills, as well as the desirable values that you need, so that you will be able to move forward and be ready to take on new experiences and fresh challenges.

Look ahead with eagerness and enthusiasm! God has a purpose for your life and there is so much that you can do for yourself and your family, for our country, and most of all for God.

Let me encourage you, then, to give meaning and purpose to your life. Know your goal in life and strive to achieve it. Just do your best and show your best. Bear in mind that the best days of your life are still ahead of you.

In addition, be somebody that your family can be proud of. Be somebody who is a useful and productive citizen of our country. Be somebody who is pleasing before the eyes of God.

Finally, as you leave your alma mater, let me thank and congratulate the school officials, faculty members, and non-teaching staff for touching your lives and contributing to who you are now. Of course, to your parents, I share their joy of seeing you reap the reward of your efforts. I wish them all the best, as they continue to love and support you in your studies.

Above all, my dear graduates, I lift you up to God and ask Him to shower you with His abundant blessings... always!
