TELL ME YOUR DREAMS SYNOPSIS

Divina Dacayan is an image of a good teacher. Filled with dedication and determination to share her knowledge, even if it takes her to the mountains to the community of Aetas. With a heavy heart she leaves her own family, just to take the path to that remote area.

The lack of knowledge of her Aetas students fuels her determination to strive and to share knowledge to these innocent children, children who lived with their families who also has unschooled parents, like Aling Tessie, the widowed mother of Toto, who refused to send her child to school because he is the only one that helps her with the household chores and attending to their farm.

Divina will become friends with Diko, the woman who stands as kapitana of the community who will help her to get the trust of the parents of the children she wanted to teach. Divina's determination will prove to be fruitful, from three students, will result to many, and gradually develop the good relationship she has as a teacher of Aeta students. Due to efforts of Divina, Aling Tessie will understand the importance of education. Toto will become friends with Divina Divina will see Toto's efforts to study hard, so she allowed him to take his baby sister in class, to care for it while studying. Divina's friendship with Toto deepens, and it will become easier for him to admire his teacher.

But every effort will have an inevitable trial ahead. An accident will test the strength of Divina. One of her students will drown during class under her supervision. Without second thoughts, Divina will dive down to rescue the child and save it.

The incident will make the parents furious. Her sacrifices are outweighed only by hatred of the Aetas elders. That event will also lead Divina to a disciplinary action by her superior. Divina will be suspended and will not able to teach her students anymore. Despite her entreaties, she will not be allowed to continue her classes.

In the midst of her grief, she will be stricken by Malaria. The disease will claim her life despite the efforts of Diko and Aling Tessie to make Divina treated by the native healer. Toto's heart will be crushed. Suddenly he will lose someone who has become a part of his life and his classmates. Someone he almost considered as his second mother.

But a good aspiration will never die. Toto continues to study and learned to dream with his classmates. And because of the inspiration given by Divina, he graduated from college and became the first teacher of his community. And the dreams of Divina for the community of Aetas are also carried out gradually over time. To have a formal school, clinic and a chapel. And above all, Divina continues to live in the hearts of her students. She is with them every dream they aspire, and inspires them to face each trial to come.

FALLEN NOT FORGOTTEN

This is the exclusive and untold story of a small band of men who overcame incredible odds and hunted the Bin Ladin of Asia -Marwan , one of the FBI's most wanted. At dawn on January 25, 2015, 13 men of the Special Action Force (SAF) attacked the hut where Marwan lived in Mamasapano. The SAF successfully terminated him and cut off his finger to establish proof of death.

This documentary gives us unprecedented access to OPLAN EXODUS, the operation that took out one of the highest valued terrorist targets dubbed as the Osama Bin Ladin of South East Asia. With never before seen interviews and footage of the actual fighting itself juxtaposed with reenactments played by the elite members of the Special Action Force, we look at the choices they made and the tradition of a little known elite group of men known as the Special Action Force (SAF). We hear first hand of how their injured SAF brothers gave their lives so the survivors could live to tell their stories. We discover the impact of their work, the significance of killing the terrorist, Marwan, the man behind the Bali Bombing, the Australian Embassy Bombing (2004) the JW Market & Ritz Carlton Bombing (2009). And in the end as 44 caskets were laid to rest we ask, was it all worth it?
